II.G.1. Grants

- 2024-2026 NICHD R25HD116367 Restoring equity to measuring and preventing perinatal intimate partner violence (Remap-IPV) (Hatcher)
This training grant will bolster skills and ethical practice among underrepresented early-stage investigators assessing partner violence within maternal health research.
Role: Co-investigator/mentoring faculty
- 2023-2027 K01 MH133504-01 (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI, “Community-engaged structural approaches to prevent violence and improve HIV prevention and care outcomes among trans women of color” ($686,400)
- 2022-2027 Canadian Institutes for Health Research Project Grant (Senn/Peitzmeier)
Role: Co-PI, with Charlene Senn; “A randomized controlled trial of the efficacy of IDEA3 – An evidence-based sexual assault resistance intervention for undergraduate women adapted for internet delivery” ($1,900,000)
Coinvestigators: Paula Barata, Katie Edwards, Misha Eliasziw
- 2021-2026 R25 MH126703-01 (Harper/Kirkland)
Role: Co-investigator; “Pipeline to graduate education and careers in behavioral and social science research for URM undergraduates: Addressing HIV in sexual and gender minority communities.” ($1,200,000)
- 2020-2021 UM Injury Prevention Center Exploratory Project (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Adapting an evidence-based sexual assault prevention intervention for women undergraduates for online delivery” ($50,000)
Funded by the CDC through the UM Injury Prevention Center.
Co-investigator: Charlene Senn
- 2019-2021 NICHD R21 HD097234-01 (Stephenson/Peitzmeier)
Role: MPI; “Partner violence in transgender populations: Context, risk, and health impact” ($450,000)
This study investigates the unique context of, risks for, and health impact of intimate partner violence (IPV) in transgender populations, as well as validates an IPV scale for use in transgender populations
Co-investigators: Kristi Gamarel, Erin Bonar
- 2016-2017 NIDA F31 DA040558 (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “HIV risk, substance use, and polyvictimization among high-risk women” ($75,896)
Dissertation work exploring how different types of violence (from clients, police, intimate partners, and pimps) differentially affect sexual and drug-related HIV risk among female sex workers in Russia, and how polyvictimization with multiple forms of violence synergistically propagates HIV risk.
- 2014-2016 PCORI CER-1403-12625 (Reisner)
Role: Co-investigator; “Preventive sexual health screening among female-to-male (FTM) transgender adult patients” ($813,000)

Two-year study assessing acceptability and effectiveness of alternative sexual-health screening modalities in transgender men.

II.H. Gifts, and Funded Research not administered by ORA

- 2022–2023 Center for Academic Innovation Public Engagement Faculty Fellowship grant (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Imagine a world in which we can all breathe”: Disseminating the findings of the BREATHE Cohort through art to reach transgender communities. ($9,989)
- 2022–2023 Elizabeth Caroline Crosby Research Grant (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Adapting an evidence-based sexual assault prevention intervention for women undergraduates for online delivery” ($10,000)
Co-investigator: Charlene Senn
- 2019–2020 UM Population Dynamics and Health Program Seed Grant (Peitzmeier)
UM Institute for Research on Women and Gender Seed Grant (Peitzmeier)
Michigan Institute for Clinical & Health Research Seed Grant (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Adapting an evidence-based sexual assault prevention intervention for transgender undergraduates” ($24,000)
This study collects all formative data necessary to adapt a CDC-recommended sexual assault prevention intervention for transgender undergraduate students by addressing key holes in the literature around the contexts in which transgender undergraduates experience sexual assault.
Co-investigators: Charlene Senn
- 2019–2020 UM IRWG Seed Grant: Transgender Health and Empowerment (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Binding Health Study” ($10,000)
Chest binding is a daily practice for many transmasculine individuals that can result in negative physical health outcomes ranging from back pain to rib fractures, yet no longitudinal data exist to untangle what binding practices are associated with the most risk. This pilot study will develop validated tools for assessing binding practices and binding-related impacts on health, and use these to assess practices and impacts in a group of 30 individuals over 90 days.
Co-investigators: Juno Obedin-Maliver, Tonia Poteat
- 2018–2019 UM Janet Gatherer Boyles Fund Seed Grant (Peitzmeier)
Role: PI; “Masculinity, affirmation, and self-conceptualization study (MASCs)” ($3,000)
This qualitative study investigates conceptualizations of masculinity among trans-masculine individuals and explores how masculinity influences health behaviors, such as diet, exercise, alcohol use, tobacco use, health care seeking, and mental / emotional / relational health.
Co-investigator: Kieran Todd

2012

Johns Hopkins Center for Public Health and Human Rights
Student Research Grant ($5,000)
Research grant supporting work I proposed and conducted in Mongolia

III. Submitted proposals

NICHD R21HD113802 Adapting a sexual assault prevention intervention for transgender undergraduates (Peitzmeier)

The application seeks to adapt and pilot an internet-delivered sexual assault prevention intervention adapted from an evidence-based and CDC-recommended program for transgender and nonbinary undergraduate students.

Initial Score: Impact score 32 / Percentile 22

Status: Plan to resubmit in 2024

NINR R01 Violence in Sexual and Gender Minority Communities (VIMS) Study (Metheny/Sherman)

This mixed-methods study will determine the burden of, and risk factors for, fatal IPV in sexual and gender minority communities via 1) leveraging National Violent Death Reporting System data and 2) conducting next-of-kin interviews. Finally, we will create a community-academic collaborative to develop and evaluate a theory of change and logic model for preventing fatal IPV in SGM.

Role: Co-investigator

Status: In progress submission for June 2024

NIMHD R21MD020209 Survive and Thrive: A community-based violence prevention intervention promoting self-protection and healing among transgender and gender diverse people (Sherman)

This community-based participatory research project seeks to develop a new sexual assault resistance primary violence prevention program in partnership with trans-led community organizations for community settings.

Role: Co-investigator

Status: Under review

NIMHD R21MD019092 Changes in gender identity and CVD risk factors (Arslanian-Engoren/Veliz)

A secondary analytic study using the Adolescent Brain Cognitive Development (ABCD) study dataset to examine longitudinal discordant changes in gender identity during adolescence and the association with key modifiable risk factors (e.g., obesity, elevated blood pressure, hypertension, smoking, physical inactivity) for cardiovascular diseases (CVD).

Role: Co-investigator

Status: Under review

NIAAA R21AA032211 Alcohol Use, Intimate Partner Violence, and ART Adherence among Transgender and Gender Diverse Persons Living with HIV (Ramsey)

The goal of this project is to examine the temporal associations among alcohol use, intimate partner violence, other syndemic factors, protective factors, and ART adherence among transgender and gender diverse persons living with HIV.

Role: Consultant

Status: Under review

NIMH R25 “Solving for the Social” HIV & Gender Co-learning Lab (Solve Collab)
(Fielding-Miller)

This training grant will support a cohort of underrepresented US and African early career scientist to develop expertise in social and structural determinants of HIV.

Role: Mentoring faculty

Status: Under review

NINR R25 Summer Research Fellowship Training Program: Advancing the Science of Firearm Injury Prevention (Stoddard/Carter)

Role: Mentoring faculty

Status: Under review

NINR T32 Health Equity in Disproportionately Affected Populations

(Stoddard/Larson/Jones)

Role: Mentoring faculty

Initial submission: Scored

Status: Plan to resubmit in 2024

II.J. Research Fellowships, Prizes and Awards

2013–2015 NICHD T32 HD064428 (Campbell)
Role: Predoctoral trainee; “Interdisciplinary training on preventing and addressing violence in families”

III. Teaching, Extension, Mentoring, and Advising

III.A. Courses Taught

Winter 2023 NURS244: Data in Nursing: Research and Evidence-based Practice (171 students)
Delivered (with Prof. Laura Saslow) undergraduate nursing core course on research methods, study design, and finding, evaluating, and using literature as part of evidence-based practice. In-person format.

Winter 2023 NURS218: Applied Statistics(47 students)
Delivered undergraduate nursing statistics core course. In-person format.

Fall 2022 HS851: Scientific Methods for Health Sciences: Applied Inference (6 students)
Delivered introductory biostatistics course for nursing PhD students (primary instructor).

Fall 2022 PUBHLTH 479-057: Independent Study (1 student). Directed mentored research experience.

Winter 2021 NURS697: Independent Study (1 student)
Mentored a doctoral student toward her Certificate in Nursing Education by helping her develop and practice her pedagogical skills in the classroom

Winter 2021	NURS218: Applied Statistics(63 students) Delivered undergraduate nursing statistics core course. Online format.
Fall 2020	HS851: Scientific Methods for Health Sciences: Applied Inference (3 students) Delivered introductory biostatistics course for nursing PhD students (secondary instructor). Online format.
Winter 2020	NURS218: Applied Statistics (66 students) Delivered undergraduate nursing statistics core course. Transitioned to virtual at start of pandemic.

III.B. Teaching Innovations

III.B.1. Course or Curriculum Development

1. NURS218: I completely redesigned the undergraduate statistics core course to feature health equity and health disparities problem sets and case studies instead of generic life sciences (biology, etc.) assignments from the textbook. I also redesigned the course from a Universal Design for Learning perspective for restructuring class policies and assessments.
2. HS851: I revamped this course from a formerly theoretical statistics course that focused on equations to a course that covered the math but also had doctoral students analyzing and interpreting real-world datasets, again with a heavy emphasis on health equity. I also added a module on ethics of data analysis, looking at how adjusting for or not adjusting for race in clinical decision making algorithms and regression models can result in bias in clinical care and resource allocation.
